Profile

Stacie Damazo is a 2019 graduate of Lewis and Clark Law School who worked with Dunn Carney as a Summer Associate in 2018. She is a member of Dunn Carney's Litigation Group, and the firm's business and real estate teams.

Stacie participates in every phase of litigation, including researching and drafting substantive procedural motions, conducting discovery, and assisting preparations for mediation, arbitration, and trial. Before joining the firm, Stacie served as a Judicial Extern to the Honorable Magistrate Judge Stacie F. Beckerman, of the U.S. District Court for the District of Oregon.

Throughout law school, Stacie demonstrated her commitment to community involvement by assuming leadership roles in various student-led and local organizations. She served as president of the Lewis and Clark Law School's Student Bar Association, executive editor of Lewis and Clark Law School's Environmental Law, and student representative to the Multnomah Bar Association Young Lawyers Section Board.

Staying true to her Portland native roots, Stacie enjoys spending free time attending Portland Timbers matches, enjoying full-bodied red wines, and exploring the city's vibrant culinary scene.
