Profile

Greg Womer is an experienced lawyer who believes that communication and responsiveness are the keys to establishing and maintaining a rewarding and successful attorney-client relationship. Although he is always aware of the need to perform his services efficiently, Greg believes that he truly establishes his value by delivering thorough education and advice.

Greg is a trusted legal advisor, having served as in-house corporate counsel for a Lake Oswego-based national mortgage lender that was eventually acquired by Credit Suisse (USA), Inc. from 2006 to 2009, and having practiced law with Luvaas Cobb – one of Eugene's most long-standing and well-respected law firms – from 2003 to 2006. He spent the next 16 years advising clients in his own private practice.

Greg collaborates with other trusted professional advisors such as CPAs, insurance agents, and real estate agents to provide a comprehensive service approach.
